- (p) with your consent only, to disclose your personal information to carefully selected third parties, so that they might contact you (including by email or post) with information about products and services which may be of interest to you.

3.2 We will process your personal data in accordance with the following principles:

- (a) all personal data must be processed lawfully, fairly and in a transparent manner;
- (b) all personal data must be collected for one or more specified, explicit and legitimate purposes and not processed in a manner incompatible with those purposes;

Please let us know if your personal details change or if you become aware of any inaccuracies in the personal data we hold about you.

3.4 To ensure that our processing of personal data is lawful, we are required to have a lawful basis in respect of each purpose. In relation to the activities listed in paragraph 3.1, we generally do so as necessary to pursue our legitimate interests in establishing and maintaining a business relationship with you and also protecting, promoting and growing our business generally. Some of the processing activities we carry out are done so because they are necessary for the performance of our contract with you. 3.5 Where we rely on, and where you provide, consent, you can withdraw your consent at any time and free of charge, but without affecting the lawfulness of processing based on consent before its withdrawal.

3.6 Occasionally, CapitalRise would like to contact you with the products/services/promotions that we provide. We will only send you marketing messages if we have your consent or, if consent is not required under applicable law, you have not opted out of receiving messages from us. You can withdraw your consent, or opt out of receiving further communications at a later date, by clicking on the unsubscribe link at the bottom of our marketing emails or, if you are logged in, toggling your preferences within your account settings. Please note that we do not need your approval to send you transactional communications, which we do not regard as marketing. For example, if you are an investor, we will from time to time need to send you transactional - or important service-related - messages which include key updates on your investment.

For example, we can refuse your request if it is manifestly unfounded or excessive. Also, we are not always obliged to erase personal data when asked to do so; if we believe that we have a good legal reason to continue processing personal data that you ask us to erase we will tell you what that reason is at the time we respond to the request.

5.4 If you have any concerns regarding the way we are processing your data, we encourage you to raise the matter with our Data Protection Administrator (contact details are in the "About Us" section above).

Although we make every effort to protect the personal information which you provide to us, please note that the transmission of data over the internet is not completely secure. As such, we cannot guarantee the security of your information transmitted online and that any such transmission is at your own risk.
